

Assarmatori Office in Brussels

Brussels office for Assarmatori. The Italian shipowner Association officially opened in Brussels a representative office so as realize a direct connection with European Institutions in view of playing a strategic role within the Eu debate on energy transition and future European maritime policy.

This new Office is going to be led by Mr. Dario Bazargan, with a longstanding experience in the maritime sector in connection with the Eu departments and previously Director for International and economic within SEA Europe, the shipbuilding European Association.

According to Mr. Stefano Messina, Assarmatori President “This is a major step of Assarmatori strategy aimed at creating a direct link with Eu institutions, thus making our shipping members more and more aware about implementation of new European shipping strategies”.